Construction Update: Boone Beach, Boat Ramp Open May 21

Who's ready for summer? Final preparations are underway for the public opening of the new Boone beach and boat ramp on Saturday, May 21. In addition to a wide swath of white sand and the low-water boat launch, the area features picnic tables, walking trails, a volleyball court, plenty of charcoal grills, restrooms and a pavilion. Bring your grilling favorites to this new facility located just north of the dam on Minga Road and make it part of your family picnic tradition.

Meet Your New Neighbor: Lenny Peterson

Lenny Peterson joins the Boone project as quality assurance manager with oversight and management of construction activities. Lenny has more than 40 years of experience in the energy services sector in project management, engineering, construction and the nuclear and fossil industries. Lenny and his wife Sandi recently moved to Johnson City and immediately jumped in to help with the Boone Lake Annual Clean Up Day. They have three children and six grandchildren.

Regional Engineers Tour Boone Dam

A dozen engineers representing the mechanical, civil, electrical and chemical fields recently had an inside look at the Boone Dam project. Our civil engineering manager Patrick Kiser provided the presentation and tour to the American Institute of Chemical Engineers from Eastman Chemical and BAE Systems. In the photo (left), Patrick points out work on the earthen embankment.
