

IRP-WG Discusses Scenarios, Strategies at Mid-September Virtual Meeting

TVA and the 2024 Integrated Resource Plan Working Group (IRP-WG) held a two-hour virtual meeting on September 14, 2023, to discuss scenarios and strategies for the 2024 IRP.

The IRP sets TVA's long-term strategy for how to meet the energy needs of the region for the next 20-plus years, and the IRP-WG consists of stakeholders who meet regularly to provide feedback.

TVA staff members presented updated information related to potential scenarios (ways that the future could unfold beyond TVA's control), and the Working Group members had a robust discussion on considerations within these potential scenarios.

At the end of the meeting, TVA sent a Microsoft Forms survey to each IRP-WG member, asking them to provide additional feedback on scenarios, including the scenario narratives and a prioritized ranking of the scenarios, with the intent to zero in on scenarios in the near future.

TVA also presented information on potential strategies – future business options within TVA's control – that could be included in the 2024 IRP. TVA and the IRP-WG will continue to have dialog and discussion on the strategies to include in the IRP at future meetings.

The IRP process entails identifying key scenarios and strategies, modeling the strategies in each of the scenarios to identify potential portfolios. In conjunction with the IRP Working Group, TVA will analyze the portfolios, considering key tradeoffs, and identify a strategic portfolio direction for the coming years.
